

Excellence Honoured at The National Procurement & Supply Chain Awards 2015

The National Procurement & Supply Chain Awards 2015

The National Procurement and Supply Chain Awards took place on Thursday, December 9th at DoubleTree by Hilton Hotel where over 300 procurement and supply chain practitioners celebrated the achievements of peers and colleagues.

The judges said, "This year's entries showed, once again, the importance of the procurement and supply chain function to businesses and large organisations and how these management disciplines are becoming board room level strategies for future growth and success."

SuperValu & Food Academy were one of the big winners on the night picking up the Private Procurement Excellence Award and Private Sector Procurement Project of the Year Award. They also succeeded in claiming the coveted Overall Excellence in Procurement & Supply Chain Award.

Roadbridge picked up the accolade for Procurement & Supply Chain Sustainability Initiative Award. Oliver Carty won the Supplier Excellence Award and AIB's entry earned them an award for Procurement & Supply Chain Team of the Year.

The Procurement & Supply Chain Leader 2015 was awarded to Dr Seamus O'Reilly for his outstanding work with the UCC Masters in Supply Chain Management for practitioners. As programme director, he has championed the contribution that lean thinking brings to the procurement and supply chain profession.
